2 Slightly Hurt As Truck Crashes Into School Bus

60 Miami Trace Students Shaken In Rt. 70 Collision

A pickup truck smashed into the rear of a stopped Miami Trace District school bus on Route 70, eight miles north of Washington C. H. at 8:45 a. m. Monday sending these persons to Memorial Hospital and caving in the front of the truck, according to Deputy Don Thompson.

Sandra Osborne, 17, Jamestown, RFD, received a jaw injury when she fell forward in the bus, the report said. She was X-rayed at Fayette Memorial Hospital where no fractures were found.

Garnet Bostwick, 15, Route 4, another passenger on the crowded bus that was carrying about 60 high school students to Jeffersonville received a bump on the head, but was checked and sent home. The driver of the pickup truck, Wilbert E. Hinson, 49, did not require treatment but was badly shaken.

Delbert R. Smith, 53, of 1025 1/2 Briar Ave., driver of the school bus, said he slowed down to pick up children at the Raymond Bevin farm when some one yelled "Look out, he's going to hit you. AS he stopped the bus the vehicle was hit by the truck. Several witnesses substantiated his story, Deputy Thompson said.

Hinson told Thompson he saw no signal light. The signal may not have been working, Deputy Thompson said, but the brake lights were. Thompson said Hinson still believed for failure to stop within assured clear distance.

AN ACCIDENT at 3:30 p. m. Saturday at Columbus Ave. and Elm St. heavily damaged one car and sent Mrs. William Van Arsdell, 47, Mahtomedi, Minn. to the hospital where she was treated for a wrenched neck and released, police said.

Nettie F. Cartwright, 43, Waterloo Rd. said she stopped for two cars to go by and didn't see the car driven by Mrs. Van Arsdell's husband until they collided. Mrs. Cartwright was cited for failure to yield the right of way. The front of the Van Arsdell car was damaged.

Both cars were slightly damaged at 3:30 p. m. Saturday in a collision at Leesburg and Clinton Aves. Involving cars driven by Ruth Eleanor Burton, 18, Greenfield-Sabina Rd., and Wanda Lou Cross, 20, Greenfield Rd.

Ronald Dale Van Dyke, 18, Route 2, told police he started to stop behind a car driven by Donald L. Parrett, 48, Clemens Rd. at Leesburg Ave. and Fairview Dr. at 9:45 a. m. Saturday when his brakes failed. He said he couldn't stop in time to avoid a collision.

Sabina Woman Seriously Hurt

Miss Ruth Leslie, 25 Sabina, is in serious condition in Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus, after being involved in a train-car crash Sunday evening in that city in which a friend was killed.

Miss Leslie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Leslie, Hornbeam Rd., suffered fractured ribs and possible internal injuries. She has been taken off the critical list, according to her father.

Killed was Miss Barbara Lotz, 23, 32 S. Sixth St., Columbus, a dental assistant. She died an hour and 15 minutes after the accident.

Miss Leslie lives in Columbus and is employed by the Division of Wildlife.

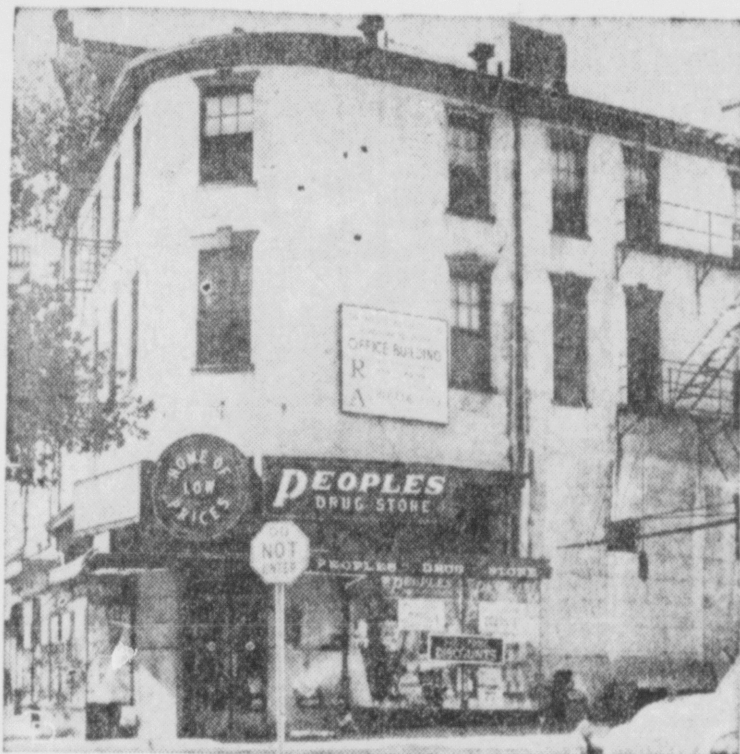

GRANDVIEW HEIGHTS police said the car was hit by a 71-car freight train at the Pennsylvania Railroad crossing.

A witness said the car approached the crossing from the south at about 10 miles an hour and that the driver apparently saw the flashing warning lights.

It moved onto the tracks, however, and was struck broadside by the diesel engine. The car was carried 104 feet and shoved to the south side of the tracks as the train continued a short distance before stopping.

Fifi Is Behaving Fine

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Fifi is acting like a good hurricane. She is still way out to sea, not very strong, and is threatening no land areas.

Historic Building Doomed

PROGRESS DOOMS HISTORIC BUILDING—Sitting three blocks from the White House, one of Washington's most historic privately-owned buildings will be torn down soon to make room for a 12-story, modern office building. The old building was used as the "President's House" from October, 1815, to March, 1817 by President James Madison after the White House was burned by the British; served as the State Department for John Marshall; was the residence of President Martin Van Buren and Vice President Elbridge Gerry; and was the Civil War headquarters of Gen. George McClellan when he commanded the Army of the Potomac in 1861.

Tomboy Choir Singer Wins Miss America Beauty Title

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—A winsome brunette who sings in a church choir and used to be "the biggest tomboy you've ever seen" today wears the crown of Miss America 1959.

Mary Ann Mobley of Brandon, Miss., was resting up in a New York City hotel after a hectic week of competition in the oldest national beauty pageant in America.

The week ended in triumph for the 21-year-old college senior Saturday night when she was named the new Miss America before a capacity Convention Hall crowd of 17,000 and a nationwide television audience.

The 5-foot-5 Southern belle, who has brown eyes and an olive complexion, burst into tears after she was crowned by the outgoing queen, Marilyn Van Derbur of Denver, Colo.

"It might sound trite, but I had no idea of winning—no idea at all," she later told newsmen. "I feel very inadequate. It's something I can't even comprehend."

Winning the title had a special significance for Mary Ann. She lost out last year as Mississippi's entrant in the pageant.

The new Miss America, who weighs 114 pounds and measures 34-22-35, began her reign by attending the coronation ball early Sunday morning. Her escorts were West Point cadets Victor Lettoff and Charles P. Ottott.

Two rather interested people never got to the ball. Mary Ann's mother and her attorney-stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. David Williams, were tied up answering long-distance telephone calls from well-wishers.

Mary Ann is studying speech and English at the University of Mississippi and hopes to become an actress. She plans to use the $10,000 she received as winner of the pageant toward that end.

In addition, the new Miss America receives about $140,000 in personal appearance fees and other prizes.

Mary Ann, who sings in the choir at Brandon Methodist Church, readily admits that she wasn't always a beauty.

"I had pigtails until I was 8, and then I had scarlet fever and my hair fell out. I wore braces on my teeth for four years."

As for romance, she said: "I've been lucky enough to date several nice young men, but I've never trapped any. I'm working on one though."

She declined to give his name. The girl who won second place in the pageant, Miss Iowa, Joanne Lucille MacDonald, 20, of Ames, belongs to Chi Omega, the same sorority as Mary Ann. Joanne received a $3,000 scholarship.

Third place went to Miss Oklahoma, Anita Bryant, 18, Tulsa, who received a $2,500 scholarship. Miss California, Sandra Lee Jennings, 18, Riverside, got a $2,000 scholarship for placing fourth, and Miss North Carolina, Betty Lane Evans, 18, Greenville, was fifth, receiving a $1,500 scholarship.

Toledo Firemen Called

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The fire department got a workout from two blazes which broke out within a span of 90 minutes Sunday.

Damage to the Epworth Methodist Church was $200,000, while the Southside Lumber and Supply Co. had $100,000 damage. The two fires were on opposite sides of the city—about five miles apart.

Democrat Given Edge To Win GOP Senate Seat in Maine

PORTLAND, Maine (AP)—Maine leads the rest of the country to the ballot box for the last time today in an election pivoting around a vital race for the U.S. Senate.

Republican Frederick G. Payne relied on his Washington experience and a sort of mutual assistance pact with President Eisenhower to fend off the challenge to his Senate seat.

The challenger is Edmund S. Muskie, a popular two-term governor and the best Democratic vote getter ever produced in the Pine Tree State.

The outcome in Maine will help cut the campaign pattern for the congressional election in all the other states in November. The way Maine votes may supply the tipoff on the extent to which Democrats generally will raise questions about the rectitude and foreign policy of the Eisenhower administration.

Payne has acknowledged that he, as did presidential assistant Sherman Adams, received favors from Bernard Goldfine, the wealthy Boston industrialist who came under scrutiny of a House subcommittee and subsequently was cited for contempt of Congress.

Muskie has kept silent on all this, on the assumption that voters can size up the facts for themselves.

The consensus of Maine political writers is that Muskie will take Payne's measure today. If he does, Democrats around the country can be expected to draw a bead on Adams and his acceptance of Goldfine gifts.

The Democrats also might open up a heavier fire against the Eisenhower administration's foreign policy. Muskie has been telling the people of Maine that not enough has been done to win over uncommitted nations and that America's defenses aren't equal to meeting the Communist threat. Payne has been pointing to the record—no shooting wars.

Eisenhower wired Payne Saturday "my strong conviction that you are needed in the U.S. Senate . . . to continue the stalwart support which you have given this administration."

Democrat Clinton A. Clauson, a former internal revenue collector, hopes to take over Muskie's chair in the statehouse at Augusta. But even the most optimistic Democrats rated his victory chances far lower than Muskie's. His Republican opponent is former Gov. Horace A. Hildreth.

'Decision Week' Begins in Dixie Integration Feud

New Court Action Simmering in Virginia, Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Legal action simmered in Arkansas and Virginia today at the start of a week of decision in the nation's integration crisis.

The decision was expected to come after Thursday's U.S. Supreme Court hearing on the Little Rock case—a decision that may have decisive influence on the speed of integration in the South.

In the meantime legal maneuvering continued and a slowly growing number of children attended mixed classes in border states. The Deep South remained segregated, however.

At Van Buren, a northwest Arkansas city, U. Simpson Tate, regional counsel for the NAACP, was making legal plans for the return of 13 Negroes to Van Buren High School despite threats of some white pupils to block integration by force. He declined to say what kind of action he would take.

Integration resistance flared last Tuesday, the start of the fall term, when hostile white youths greeted Negroes with jeers and warnings to stay away. About 45 whites cut classes Thursday and Friday and staged a boycott demonstration outside the school. The Negroes stayed away from classes Friday.

In Virginia, the state's legal battle to avoid mixing the races in the schools headed for a test in U.S. Dist. Judge John Paul's court at Harrisonburg.

Protesting parents of 30 Negro pupils denied admission to Charlottesville white schools are to appear before him along with school board officials. The judge also has asked attorneys for 26 Negro children to have an order ready for his signature. This order would enjoin the Warren County School Board from barring the 26 children from the county's only high school—now all white.

Labor Battles Anti-Union Shop Ban

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Armed with a million pieces of campaign literature, some 4,000 Ohio labor leaders were returning to their homes today to start their drive to beat an anti-union shop proposal.

They packed the Veterans Memorial here Sunday for a two-hour session which kicked off the campaign to throw a vote blockade in the path of a proposed constitutional amendment.

Speaker after speaker took turns at the microphones to urge battle against "Issue No. 2" on the November ballot.

Walt Davis, director of United Organized Labor of Ohio—the group formed to fight the union shop ban—outlined a drive for a million-dollar campaign fund. He declared:

"We are in for trouble. We need a dollar from every union man if we are going to have one for every five the other side spends."

Davis outlined an extensive campaign including newspaper, radio and television advertisements. To pay for this, he urged the labor officials: "Go back and vote out of your treasuries the money we need."

Keynoter was John Owens, secretary—treasurer of the United Mine Workers. He charged sponsors of the union shop ban "simply are trying to turn back the clock to the old days (when) they relied on starvation, want and unemployment to accomplish their ends."

Kored Soldiers Stage Attack in Truce Zone

SEOUL, (AP)—South Korean Defense Ministry sources said six or seven Communist North Korean soldiers staged a pre-dawn attack today along the demilitarized zone, killing one South Korean soldier and wounding another.

The sources said the attack took place near Chorwon, 50 miles northeast of Seoul on the west Front—a section of the demilitarized zone patrolled by the South Korean army.

No American soldiers were reported involved.

Red China's Mao Gives OK To Formosa Talks with U.S.

LONDON (AP)—Red China's Mao Tze-tung today gave the green light for talks over the Formosa situation with the United States in Warsaw.

He said such talks "might lead to some results provided both sides wanted to settle the question," Peiping radio reported.

Mao, chairman of the Chinese Communist party, spoke to the Red Chinese Supreme State Council.

The radio said: "Chairman Mao was hopeful about the ambassadorial talks between China and the United States which would begin in Warsaw.

Red China's Premier Chou En-lai proposed talks with the United States on the ambassadorial level last Saturday. The talks were broken off last December after 73 meetings in Geneva.

The White House later issued a statement welcoming the offer, and said U.S. Ambassador Jacob Beam in Warsaw was ready to meet with Red China's ambassador there. The United States previously had suggested transfer of the talks to Warsaw Aug. 1.

Although Mao gave the go-ahead to the talks, the Peiping radio said he again attacked the United States.

"U.S. imperialism is creating tension all over the world in an attempt to attain its aggressive aims and to enslave the peoples of various countries," he was quoted.

"The present situation is favorable for people all over the world who are fighting for peace."

The broadcast added: "The chairman pointed out the general trend was that of the east wind prevailing over the west wind."

Ambassador Beam's orders were to wait a few days and, if no word came from Ambassador Wang, to call the Communist envoy and find out when he was prepared to meet in Warsaw.

Western diplomats braced for a new Communist push to seat Red China in the United Nations. They said the Red Chinese bombardment of the Nationalist offshore islands clearly was aimed not only at probing U.S. intentions but also at stirring up a ruckus on the eve of the 13th U.N. General Assembly starting Sept. 16 at New York.

U.S. determination to carry a big stick while talking softly was evident in the activities of the 7th Fleet. For the first time during daylight Sunday, the U. S. warships convoyed Nationalist supply ships from Formosa to the offshore

Gunman Robs Couples, then Kidnaps Girl

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (AP)—A gunman invaded a secluded lover's lane near here Sunday, shot up an automobile, robbed its four occupants and seized a pretty 18-year-old blonde. Then he fled into the early morning darkness.

The kidnapped girl was identified as Marjorie Schneider, a Ft. Collins stenographer whose parents live at Wakeeney, Kan.

As he dragged Miss Schneider toward his car, the gunman turned and said: "Thanks for the money. Sorry I busted up your car. I want the blonde to come with me."

Sheriff Ray Scheerer and more than a score of deputies searched the northern Colorado area in patrol cars during the night, but turned up no lead to the missing girl and her captor.

The kidnapping occurred at Horsetooth Reservoir four miles southwest of Fort Collins. Miss Schneider's companions rushed two miles to telephone officers.

Sheriff Ray Scheerer said indications are that the crew-cut gunman is extremely accurate with the high-powered rifle which he carries.

Scheerer identified other occupants of the car as Miss Schneider's date, Ellsworth E. Farnik, 21, a student of Colorado State University here from Estes Park, Colo.; James Coleman, 19, a Fort Collins fireman; and his wife, Janet, 18.

Scheerer said the bullets from the gunman's rifle shattered the Farnik vehicle's windshield, shot out the headlights, two front tires and radiator.

General Strike Hits Venezuela

Military Coup Fails To Gain Support

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—A general strike closed this troubled capital today in the wake of another military attempt to seize power from a government junta striving to restore democracy in Venezuela.

Union leaders threatened to continue the walkout until their demands—for disbanding rebellious military police and for disciplining some army officers—were met.

Eight hours of street fighting in downtown Caracas reportedly killed about 20 persons and left 200 wounded. Most of the casualties were said to be unarmed youngsters who played a major part in laying siege on the rebel headquarters downtown.

The government of Rear Adm. Wolfgang Larrazabal announced one leader of the coup was under arrest and three others were hiding out in the Mexican Embassy.

Instead of allowing them to claim refuge in the embassy under standard South American practices, the government said it would ask for return of the insurgents as common criminals and refuse to let them leave the country.

Larrazabal hurried back from a tour of eastern Venezuela and promised the plotters would be punished. Interior Minister Numa Quevedo backed him up and clamped down a curfew from 11 p. m. to 6 a. m.

After the first attempt to seize the government failed July 23, political leaders charged Larrazabal and Quevedo were not tough enough in following up to prevent further coups.

Both attempts involved discontented officers who lost much of their prestige and privileges in the January revolution which overthrew the military dictatorship of Gen. Marcos Perez Jimenez.

Residents Hire Pinkerton Guards

NEW YORK (AP)—From 4 p. m. until 8 a. m. every day uniformed Pinkerton guards patrol a block on Manhattan's East Side.

Their salaries are paid by 30 residents of the block, who are putting up $30 each month for the special protection.

As one resident explained it: "You never see a foot patrolman anymore and the radio cars don't do the trick."

A contributor said there hasn't been a burglary on the block—2nd to 3rd avenues between 61st and 62nd streets—since the Pinkertons went on the job.

Hunt for Third Williamsport Bandit Continues

Tip Leads to Gun Used in Holdup; Sheriff Clears Up Other Robberies

An anonymous phone call Saturday to the Fayette County sheriff's office led to the finding of the stolen gun that was used in an armed robbery at Williamsport Friday.

Sheriff Orland Hays said Monday that in addition to the .22 caliber nine-shot holdup pistol, a radio, watches and a 12-gauge shotgun were found in an abandoned auto near Washington C. H.

Paul Hurler, 31, Dayton Aves., admitted that he had stolen the merchandise from the People's Hardware Store in Chillicothe last week, the sheriff said. He refused to say if anyone was with him. Hurler and Virgil Boggs, 20, of Elm St., are being held in connection with the Williamsport holdup which they have admitted.

Sheriff Hays said Hurler told him the revolver was the used by the third man in the holdup at Mom and Pop's Grocery near Williamsport Friday noon. Sheriff Hays said the hunt for the man who held the gun in the grocery-store-filling station robbery is continuing.

PICKAWAY COUNTY SHERIFF Charles Radcliff said Monday that Virgil Boggs, 20, of Elm St., Washington C. H. told him he and Hurler robbed the Louis Cash Store in New Holland of cigarettes and a bout $12 within the past two weeks.

Sheriff Radcliff is investigating the possibility that the pair may have been involved in other robberies. Charges of armed robbery have been filed against both men who are now in the Pickaway County jail.

Sheriff Radcliff expressed his appreciation for the cooperation he received from the Fayette County sheriff's office and the Washington C. H. Police Department.

Both Hurler and Boggs were arrested in Washington C. H. Friday night by Deputy Sheriff Don Thompson and Sheriff Radcliff

Shore Guns Avoid Shots At U. S. Navy

Mainland Artillery Barrage Is Resumed Against Small Isles

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Red Chinese guns reopened their artillery war on the Nationalist offshore islands today, blasting a Nationalist supply ship at a Quemoy beach but making no attempt to menace U.S. warships offshore.

The artillery bombardment, ending a 2½-day lull in the vest pocket war, came after Nationalist jets fought a furious air battle with Red MIGs off the mainland near Swatow this morning. The Nationalists claimed seven MIGs shot down and two damaged.

The Red artillery attack was concentrated on Quemoy beach areas. The supply ship suffered two direct hits and exploded. Officials here said it may have been destroyed.

Presumably the ship was escorted to Quemoy by U.S. warships. U.S. headquarters here refused to confirm or deny that the supply ship was escorted to Quemoy. A blanket of secrecy was thrown over escort operations.

But the Nationalists indicated U.S. destroyers were near Quemoy at the time of the bombardment and well inside Red China's newly proclaimed 12-mile sea border.

The heaviest concentration of fire was reported on the Quemoy beaches in an apparent attempt to stop unloading of supplies.

The Nationalist defense ministry said the Red guns unleashed a very heavy bombardment in the early afternoon but that the volume of fire became sporadic later.

The Nationalist-held Tan Isles nearby also were targets, along with Quemoy and adjacent Little Quemoy.

Unconfirmed reports said national planes made their first bombing runs of the Formosa Strait war against mainland gun positions after the shelling of Quemoy resumed. The Nationalists had announced they would bomb the Red artillery posts if the Communists resumed their attack.

These same reports said Nationalist planes were locked in a furious dogfight over Weitou, 7½ miles northeast of Quemoy where

Lebanon Area Man Kills Own Son in Fuss

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Roy Bonham, 46, of nearby Mason, was killed early Sunday with one shot between the eyes. The Warren County prosecutor says Bonham's father, William, 71, admits the shooting.

The shooting occurred after an argument at the elder Bonham's home where the dead man made his home with his two young children.

Prosecutor Fred Jones said the older Bonham told him he pulled out a revolver when his son came toward him and said, "don't come any closer or I'll shoot." One shot was fired after his son failed to stop.

No charge was filed immediately. Sheriff Richard Satterthwaite said the two Bonhams had apparently argued bitterly over these events which led up to the shooting.

Roy Bonham, after some heavy drinking, started using abusive language to his children, and his stepmother asked him to stop. But the younger Bonham picked up a shotgun, fired into the ground and told her to leave. Then he went inside the house and turned toward his father's bedroom.

Downtown Dayton Building Is Damaged

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The Holencamp Brewery building, just south of the downtown business district here, was heavily damaged by fire early today.

Fire Chief Forrest Lucas said damage to the two-story brick and stucco building probably amounts to $35,000 or $40,000.

Cause of the blaze has not been determined. The building is owned by the Dayton Brewing Co. and is used as a warehouse. Its brewing operations were shut down in 1949.

15 From Here At 'Swine Day'

Program Set Up
By Robert Owens

Fifteen Fayette Counties attended the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station's 1958 Swine Day Friday at Wooster.

A crowd in excess of 600 people saw the swine research projects and heard reports on tests that have been conducted this year at the W. L. Robison Swine Research Farm. Among topics discussed were feed additives for pigs on deep litter and on concrete; pelleting of a complete ration or a protein supplement fed free-choice with corn; feed additives for pigs on pasture; hygroscopic and piperazine phosphate for worming; sex differences as they influence carcass characteristics in swine and continuous dry lot management of swine.

Robert Owens of Jeffersonville, Duroc breeder and chairman of the research and education committee of the Ohio Swine Council, was chairman of the afternoon program. This program included a panel discussion in multiple farrowing and transmissible gastroenteritis (T.G.E.), a virus disease of swine. E. E. Jenks of Jeffersonville was a member of the panel on multiple farrowing. He explained in detail his hog producing methods.

Those attending from Fayette County included A. R. Rankin, Harry Craig, Homer Wilson, Joe McClure, Bob Klever, Frank Sollars, Foster Kelley, Jack Purseley, Harold Jenkins, Mrs. Lee Cleland, daughter Gloria, Extension Agent Phil Grover, Mrs. Robert Owens, Owens and Jenks.

A complete report of the test results is available at the Extension Service office here.

Robert Minor Resigns From ICC Position

Robert W. Minor, son-in-law of Mrs. Howard C. Allen, 624 Oakland Ave., has resigned from the Interstate Commerce Commission, it was announced at the vacation headquarters of President Eisenhower in Newport, R. I.

Minor, a native of Columbus and graduate of Ohio State University, was said to have resigned for personal reasons. President Eisenhower praised Minor for his services on the commission.

Mrs. Allen could not be reached Monday for comment on his possible plans for the future. Minor is an attorney.

Mrs. Minor is the former Miss Joan Allen, a graduate of Washington C. H. High School and Miami University at Oxford.

Minor's resignation will be effective upon the appointment of his successor.

He was Sen. John W. Bricker's administrative assistant from 1949 to 1953 and then served as first assistant to William P. Rogers, deputy attorney general at that time.

Reds Fire on Ship

The Communists have their biggest guns. The Weitzung guns have been blamed for the artillery attacks both on Quemoy beach and on the main military hospital in Quemoy.

In the air, the Nationalists claimed their biggest victory so far—seven Communist MIG jets shot down and two damaged in a blazing 10-minute battle near Swatow, 130 miles south of Quemoy. The Nationalists said one of their Super Sabres was hit but returned to base without difficulty.

There was no immediate announcement that ships of the U.S. 7th Fleet had escorted the supply convoy to Quemoy today. But Peiping radio charged earlier that U. S. warships "have again intruded into China's territorial waters," and the 7th Fleet commander, Vice Adm. Wallace M. Beakley, said American escorting of supplies to Quemoy is going to become routine.

The Communist bombardment of Quemoy resumed after a lull of more than 62 hours. Two cruisers and six destroyers of the 7th Fleet Sunday escorted two Nationalist landing ships loaded with 300 tons of ammunition to Quemoy.

It was the first American escort of a daylight convoy to the beleaguered island, although Beakley disclosed that his ships had been shepherding supply ships to Quemoy at night since last Wednesday.

The American action challenged Peiping's recent proclamation extending Red China's territorial waters 12 miles out from the shore and beyond Quemoy. The United States rejected the extension, saying it would continue to observe the three-mile limit. The escorting ships remained some seven miles off the Communist mainland.

Peiping radio charged the American ships with violating Chinese waters and broadcast a "serious warning" from the Foreign Ministry. The warning was repeated again today.

The furious air battle took place this morning over the Formosa Strait, 23 miles east of the Tenggah base at which the Communists recently based 50 MIG17s.

Annual Ohio Awards Await 4 Writers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The annual Ohioana awards for the best fiction, non-fiction and juvenile books will go this year to three native Ohioans and an "adopted" Ohioan.

The awards are presented by the Martha Kinney Cooper Ohioana Library Assn.

In the field of general non-fiction, the award will go to Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., Columbus-born professor at Harvard University, for his book "The Crisis of the Old Order."

Paul Murray Kendall of Athens, Ohio, a member of the Ohio University faculty, will receive the biographical non-fiction award for his book "Warwick the Kingmaker." Kendall was born in Virginia, but has lived in Ohio for the past 21 years.

Charles L. Locke, a native of Tiffin, is the winner of the fiction medal for his book "The Hell Bent Kid," an adult western. A third generation Ohio newspaperman, Locke now lives in Boonton, N. J.

The juvenile book medal goes to Robert McCloskey for writing and illustrating "Time of Wonder." McCloskey was born in Hamilton, but now lives in the east.

Navy Balloon On Study of Gamma Rays

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—A big plastic balloon carrying a lead-shielded gamma ray telescope floated 19½ miles above northern Iowa today in a Navy project to study cosmic rays.

A spokesman for General Mills, Inc., which launched the unmanned balloon from suburban New Brighton, Minn., Sunday night, said its altitude was 103,500 feet. The balloon was floating slowly westward over Iowa.

Massachusetts Institute of Technology scientists, working with the Office of Naval Research, said they hoped to learn more about cosmic rays, a potential hazard to manned space flight.

The 500-pound lead shield was used to put up a barrier to secondary cosmic rays, and allow only primary rays to be recorded.

The telescopic equipment will be released by a timing device and will float to earth beneath a cluster of four parachutes, probably about 20 miles west of Waterloo, Iowa.

The balloon, 303 feet long and 217 feet in diameter when fully inflated, was the biggest ever launched by General Mills.

U.S. Jet Airliner Quietly Spans Sea

LONDON (AP)—America's first jet airliner, the Boeing 707, flew the Atlantic today to show the British how quiet it can be.

Flown by Pan American World Airways, the big jetliner flew from New York to London in 10 hours 22 minutes, including stops at Gander, Nfld., and Shannon, Ireland.

When it comes into service, the 707 is scheduled to make the New York - London crossing in 6½ hours.

The Boeing 707 is to be tested for noise at London Airport. If the roar from its four engines is found to be sufficiently low, the plane will be allowed to operate out of there.

Eleven Treated For Accident Injuries Here

Two persons were admitted to Memorial Hospital for fractures and nine others were treated and released for a variety of injuries in mishaps over the weekend here.

Mrs. Nola Spradlin, Route 3, Mt. Sterling, fell from a step ladder while picking peaches and fractured her left ankle. She was reported in "good" condition Monday.

David Shilt, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Skinner, Route 1, Lewisburg, fractured his left arm while playing ball at the Blanche Skinner residence near Atlanta. His condition was "good" Monday morning.

Richard Huff, 432 Eastern Ave., accidentally hit himself with a brakeshoe. He suffered lacerations above his right eye.

Sonya Ann Lindsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Lindsey, Route 1, Mt. Sterling, was treated for bruises after she was thrown forward in a moving automobile when the brakes were applied.

Terry Pettit, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Pettit, caught his left on a nail protruding from a board at his home. He suffered lacerations.

Maine Losing First Election Distinction

AUGUSTA, Maine (AP)—Today's Maine election is the last to be held in September.

Why is it the last? And why was September chosen in the first place?

Records of the 1819 constitutional convention, just before Maine became a state, show that delegates wanted a date between early and late harvests "as being the least busy season."

Apparently November, when all other states elect, wasn't even considered. In those days November rains often made dirt roads all but impassable.

So, ever since winning statehood, Maine has elected on the second Monday of September.

The early date spawned the old saw: "As Maine goes, so goes the nation."

For 30 years opponents of September voting, mostly Democrats, fought to have Maine join the other states.

They argued that the state got little for the thousands it spent on an extra election every presidential year. Supporters talked of the early election's publicity value and greater campaign contributions from national party war chests.

But it wasn't until 1957 that the proponents of change mustered enough bipartisan support in the Legislature to get a constitutional amendment before the people.

The electorate ratified it. And starting in 1960 Maine will vote on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November.

The violin, considered by many to be the most important instrument in a modern orchestra, was not really perfected until the 17th century.

Ike Pins Peace Hope on Work Of SEATO

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—President Eisenhower, cautiously hopeful about a peaceful solution of the Far East crisis, says free world allies, meanwhile, will stand firm against the Communist challenge.

Hopefully awaiting further developments, Eisenhower served notice about the West standing firm against communism in taking note that today is the fourth anniversary of the signing of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization pact.

In a statement, the President said of the work of the United States and the seven other member nations: "I am convinced that our cooperative efforts will continue to be successful. In the face of an undiminished challenge, the Zealand, Pakistan, the Philippines Southeast Asia Treaty Organization will vigorously maintain the protective shield necessary to the preservation of our common heritage of freedom."

The other SEATO members are Britain, Australia, France, New and Thailand.

In Washington, Secretary of State Dulles put out a companion statement saying the Far East crisis clearly demonstrates the Chinese Communists have not renounced their expansionist goals. He voiced confidence SEATO will help preserve freedom.

Round about Fayette County

PAINTERS DISLodge RELIC -- B. E. Kelley, The Record-Herald's Round-about, holds a historic board which had been imbedded in a metal cornice above an upstairs window in the McLean Building, Court and Fayette Sts., since the "Big Cyclone" imploded it there 73 years ago tonight. The pencil indicates how far the piece of plank, which the vicious storm may have torn from the wrecked covered bridge on W. Court St., had been driven into the coping. Painters who are brightening up the downtown building, dislodged the board which will be a part of the Fayette County Historical Society collection.

By B. E. KELLEY

It was 73 years ago tonight that Washington C. H. was wrecked by a violent tornado, which roared in from the west shortly after 8 p. m. leaving a trail of destruction in its wake, and vanished quickly east of this city.

It was the worst disaster that ever occurred here, and six people were killed, many injured, and property damage in the community was well above $500,000.

Starting 12 miles west of the city the twister, which has always been referred to here as "cyclone" destroyed buildings, woods, crops and in fact nearly everything in its path.

Fields were wiped clean of grass, corn fields were stripped, woods were flattened, and straws were driven deep into the bark of trees. In Washington C. H. numerous residence properties and part of the business area were wrecked. The First Baptist Church, St. Colman's Catholic Church, and a massive brick chapel in St. Colman's Cemetery on Elm Street were torn down.

An apple tree in Mrs. Lou Harris' yard, Fayette St., was not damaged, but was driven two to three feet into the ground.

A carload of tin roof and cornice was picked up here and scattered over farms 18 miles eastward.

Innumerable narrow escapes were reported as the storm cloud, described as looking like a "monster illuminated hornet's nest", tore its way through the countryside and city, accompanied by a deafening roar a vast amount of lightning and heavy rainfall.

The following day the city was jammed with people and horse-drawn vehicles. Special trains brought hundreds from adjoining cities, and the havoc caused by the great storm was viewed by thousands.

A few days ago the last visible evidence of the great tornado was removed, and is now stored for an exhibit for the Fayette County Museum.

It was a section of pine board 4 1/2 feet long, 4 inches wide and one inch thick, which was driven 18 inches into the metal cornice above a window in the McLean Building, Fayette and Court Sts.

Ever since the tornado the piece of board had been pointed to as evidence of the great force of the tornado of Sept. 8, 1885.

By a strange co-incidence last Tuesday I was on my way to the First Federal Building and Loan Co. to see a minute hand which had been twisted from the Court House clock by the storm, and look up to see the piece of board above the window, left by the same storm, I noticed it was gone.

A gaping hole in the cornice showed where it had been.

Going to the scene, where painters were at work redecorating the building, I asked about the board and was informed that one of the painters had removed it a short time before. It was lying on the scaffolding being used by the painters.

They gave the piece of board to me and later I contacted Bud Brownell, asked about the board, which was not going to be replaced, and was informed the Fayette County Historical Society could have it. It is now tagged and stored with hundreds of other museum pieces.

I regard it as a peculiar incident that the old board, with its many coats of paint on the portion outside of the cornice, should be removed so near the 73rd anniversary of the storm.

In the corridor of the Court-house is a big frame containing a large number of photographs taken of the tornado damage. These reflect the terrific force of the twister so long referred to as the "big cyclone."

OLD WELL RECALLED

One of several public wells which formerly existed in the up-town area, was in front of the present City Building, or, to be more exact, in front of police headquarters.

This was a dug well, like all the others, and for a long time was public drinking place, with a tincup attached to the pump by a chain for everyone who was thirsty to use.

The well, long since filled up, as I recall, was under the sidewalk near the curb.

Forty years ago this week the water in the well was condemned by the state health department, after Health Commissioner John Byron had sent a sample for analysis.

Byron had tied the handle of the iron pump so it could not be used, and after the water was found unfit for drinking, the pump was removed and the well never utilized again.

It was not long after it was condemned that it was filled.

Another similar well was under the sidewalk at the Fountain Corner of Court and Main Sts. and another in the sidewalk along the Fayette St. side of what is now the Washington Savings Bank Building.

Air Base Expansion May Require More Wilmington Sewers

WILMINGTON — Enlargement of the city's sewer system to take care of an expected 60 per cent increase from Clinton County Air Force Base's expansion program is in the cards.

City Council Thursday night approved a recommendation of the city - employed engineering firm to draw up plans for handling the increased flow from the base.

With an estimated increase of 3,100 in personnel at the Air Base by 1960, engineers for the base now question whether the city can take care of more sewage. The city currently has an agreement to accept sewage from the base, which has built lines and a pumping station and pays rental upon such use.

Wilmington Voters To Get 6 Ballots

WILMINGTON — All Clinton County voters will receive at least three ballots in the November election, others will be asked to mark four, while Wilmington voters will get six.

The Wilmington City Board of Education is asking for an issue of bonds in the amount of $1,150,000 for constructing and reconstructing fireproof school building to cost property owners 2.2 mills on each dollar of evaluation. On the same ballot will be a renewal and increase to an existing tax levy to total 7 1/2 mills.

Liberty Township, Simon Kenton, Jefferson Township, and Clarksville - Vernon are asking for 3-mill levies, while Adams Township and Chester Township are seeking 2-mill levies for school operation.

Other ballots to be voted include one for a Wilmington City Charter Commission, a consolidation of the school districts of Adams Township, Chester Township, and Clarksville-Vernon and the transfer of the Harveysburg school district from Warren County to Clinton County.

Casablanca, city of parks and palaces, was only a small fishing village on a pestilential swamp in North Africa less than 50 years ago. Today, it has a population of more than one-half million persons.

418 in County Get $105,049 In Ohio Korean War Bonuses

A total of 418 Fayette County veterans of the Korean War and next-of-kin of those who were killed or have died since received $105,049.26 from Ohio Korean Bonus fund during the year of June 1, 1957, to June 1, 1958, the Korean Conflict Compensation Fund headquarters in Columbus reported today.

They received $251.31 a piece. The maximum bonus is $400.

For many veterans and next-of-kin in the county are eligible to receive the bonus is not definitely known, Bernard Witherspoon, the county's veteran service officer, has said, because no record of veterans and their addresses is kept.

The bonus is based on service in any branch of the armed forces between June 25, 1950, and July 19, 1953.

Veterans and next-of-kin who are eligible for the bonus, and who have not yet applied for it, have until Dec. 31 to get in their claims.

The Korean Bonus headquarters estimates that some 20,000 who are eligible have not filed claims. G. W. Goble, director of the bonus fund, stressed that any application filed after Dec. 31 cannot be considered legally.

THE DIRECTOR'S report said that a total of $52,632,244.44 has been paid to 203,382 veterans and next-of-kin. Most of the bonus money, $42,253,680.41 went to those still living in Ohio, although $8,314,957 went to those now living in other states, $225,889.07 to those in U. S. territories and the District of Columbia, $48,399.27 to those now living in foreign countries and $1,789,298 to veterans still in the service.

In adjoining counties, the number of payments, total amount paid and average payments are: Clinton 529, claims, $135,978.30 total and $257.05 average; Greene 1,430, $373,471.57 and $261.17; Highland 312, $141,512.28 and $256.83; Madison 411, $104,588.11 and $254.47; Pickaway 547, $131,400.91 and $255.42; Ross 633, $309,564.38 and $255.42.

Youthful Rocketeers Encouraged by Army

One thing the Armed Services of this country are starting to do may make up for some of the criticism hurled their way which in effect declares that these services have been rather delinquent in things they are supposed to have accomplished, considering the amount of money they spend and the number of individuals they have working for them.

A recent U. S. Army action is a movement toward lending a helping hand to youngsters and some other civilian individuals who have shown interest and some ability in making missiles and in other ways indicating a constructive desire to play a part in the developments of the space age.

The army headquarters is now circulating to all its commands instructions for aiding amateur rocket clubs, missile and other scientific groups which are experimenting along this line.

Naturally the first objective is to help protect amateur rocketeers from killing themselves or injuring others, but other things are being accomplished beyond this. One important thing is the hope of developing an assistance program for a potential source of manpower, sufficiently informed in this field to be able to be utilized to advantage in military missile units, and in industry, in the event of an emergency.

The army officials, in some areas, even are having test ranges available to amateurs when they sign waivers that they nor their relatives will try to hold the military forces responsible for mishaps. Also no firing of missiles by amateurs is permitted into airspace used by planes.

Right now missiles are receiving a lot of attention in this country and young minds are vastly stimulated in this new and fascinating field.

Many youngsters still in their teens are taking to rocket launching to a greater degree than most people realize and these are not projects to be undertaken without expert advice.

It is probably a good thing that U. S. Army authorities are seeking to steer these youthful talents in the right direction to avoid accidents.

Who knows but that some of these young fellows, thus encouraged, may become valuable missile or other space experts of the not distant future?

Just How Smart Are You?

Every year the research staff of "Our Wonderful World," an 18-volume children's reference work, receives thousands of questions from parents and kids.

Some of the questions fascinate the experts who often, for one reason or another, find them a bit hard to answer—adequately, anyway.

Want to test your own knowledge? All right, get out your pencil and paper, and see how you'd do on these actual sample questions:

"How many grains of corn will a goose eat in 30 days?"

"I am an undertaker. Please tell me how I can attract and keep business."

"Send me information on how to spot a Communist. Please rush."

"How many Adam's apples has a giraffe got?"

"Are there any good uses for lightning?"

"Why does a hypodermic needle have a hole?"

"I would like some information on bugs like mother found in her flour. Are they wheat germs?"

"I have heard that on expeditions in the Himalayan Mountains there were encountered another race of people called the Abdominal Snow Man. Who are they?"

"I want to know what a Democrat or Republican considers himself to be."

"I am to give a report on 'beheading.' Any information you can give me on what actually causes death after a beheading?"

"I would like to ask a question. What does love mean? I am 13 years old. I can't figure it out."

"How can we know just where to draw the line on worry?"

"Please furnish me with all available information on the following subject: Ways, means and methods used in cheating in the game of poker. P.S. I have been took a few times lately, in a friendly game at the local club, and I want to know how they do it."

"Is fire hot? What are the latest ideas on this?"

"Why does a baby wet its diaper as soon as changed?"

"I would like some information about Vladimir Horowitz, Russian pianist. I would like to know if he does the playing for Liberace."

"What did the people of B.C. call their years? They could not have called it B.C. because they didn't know Christ was coming."

"Describe a typical day in the lives of Adam and Eve."

"I would like a research report on phobias—how many there are and also their names. I have 21, but they tell me there are many, many more."

After you have finished this quiz, do me a favor, will you? Don't send the answers to me. I don't feel up to grading them. Send them to Harvard.

Are We in 'Mortal Danger'?

By George Sokolsky

The principal achievement or propaganda, public relations and advertising is to make a person believe what somebody else wants him to believe.

"Nine out of ten," shrieks a girl on television and you are therefore supposed to believe that nine out of ten doctors prescribe a certain drug for a headache.

It is not true in the first place because the way the medical profession is organized, doctors specialize, and therefore no such ratio has anything to do with headaches. Furthermore, my own doctor would tell me that as a cardiac patient if I took this or a remedy of the same ingredient, it would do me damage. It might kill me.

It is the same in politics. In order to justify a budget and to continue high taxes, the government propagandists took advantage of the Sputnik to scream that if we did not do something drastic, we would be licked, all our cities would be wiped out and our population destroyed.

Therefore the "educators" got into a tizzy by demanding more schools and colleges to turn out more engineers and scientists, even though by such acute specialization the engineers, scientists and all others would come out of colleges and universities ignorant, uneducated specialists, slide-rule pushers who could not think for themselves. The principal task of all learning, after all, is to train the mind to think for itself.

Then free lancers for magazines and newspapers began to sell articles on how we are going to surrender. Editors bought such articles in the hope that people like to read about the worst.

Of these articles, the most unbelievable and therefore the one that attracted most attention was by Brig. Gen. Thomas R. Phillips, U. S. Army (retired). The date-line is Washington, Aug. 5. Brig. Gen. Phillips has had an interesting administrative career in the Army, is the author or editor of a number of books and is the military analyst for the "St. Louis Post-Dispatch."

This particular article has the following headlines and subheads, all punched together in the "Congressional Record" in which I read it:

"Question of When United States should surrender in all-out nuclear attack studied for Pentagon—scientists are proceeding on assumption Russia has achieved, or is rapidly gaining, intercontinental military superiority with missiles."

The article deals mainly with a book, "Strategic Surrender," by Paul Kecskemeti, published by the Stanford University Press for the Rand Corp. which is an Air Force agency.

Who Kecskemeti is, I cannot discover in usual works of reference. The brigadier gives no biographical sketch; neither does senator Symington who calls attention to the article.

Sen. Symington said that he called attention to the otherwise obscure article and book for the following reason:

"... The article has prompted considerable correspondence from disturbed constituents who asked whether it is a fact that the United States is in mortal danger, as Gen. Gavin stated, according to an article which was published last week in Life magazine. They want to know whether Gen. Phillips is correct when he says:

"The United States will be in mortal danger until bombers, fast enough to limit the effectiveness of hostile air defenses, and thousands of intercontinental missiles are ready to respond to the opponent, who has trumped our ace by jumping over the phase of intercontinental warfare represented by long-range bombers as a means of delivery!"

The phrase, "mortal danger," is a most serious one and cannot be used lightly. I have read Gen. James M. Gavin's book, "War And Peace in the Space Age," and came away from it disturbed but without any feeling that we are in "mortal danger."

In fact, my own reaction was that as long as Gen. Gavin could write such a book for general circulation and state his criticisms in freedom, we are not in "mortal danger." Adm. Hyman Rickover does it better, I think: he criticizes but stays on the job as long as he will be permitted to stay on the job and do a man's work.

There is no use minimizing the peril of having such an enemy as Soviet Russia, but it is really dangerous to shriek, "mortal danger," to get a budget through Congress. There ought to be a more mature way of getting things done.

The actual size of the break will range from a quarter of an inch to an inch, but from the pain it can cause, you might think it was a mile wide. In chronic cases, patients might complain of pain for up to seven years.

For some reason, attacks of pain generally are more prevalent in the spring and the fall.

When It Hurts

We are pretty certain that pain is caused when the stomach acid reaches the ulcer because we can relieve the pain either by neutralizing the acid or by emptying the stomach.

Worry and fatigue tend to produce recurrences of pain. So do acute infections.

Almost always the pain produced by stomach ulcers can be relieved by eating. Your doctor, of course, will place you on a special diet with a lot of milk and cream. He will prohibit highly seasoned foods and ban the use of tobacco and alcohol.

He also has antacid powders and pastes at his disposal to neutralize the stomach acidity and, if necessary, he can cure the ulcer with surgery.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

R. W.: Should a baby just home from the hospital have his crib mattress raised at the head?

Answer: Usually, the baby's bed should be level. However, when the baby has a cold, it is advantageous to lower the head of the bed in order that infected secretions can drain out of the nose and throat easily.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

RUDYARD KIPLING, particularly outraged by autograph rounds, was reading peacefully in his garden in England one day, when a neighbor barged in with an American who announced "she could never go home and face her husband without shaking the hand of the immortal Rudyard Kipling." Then she eyed the author-poet, noting he had on an old, threadbare suit, was unkempt and—scowling darkly, "I never dreamed," she quavered, "that you were going to look like this."

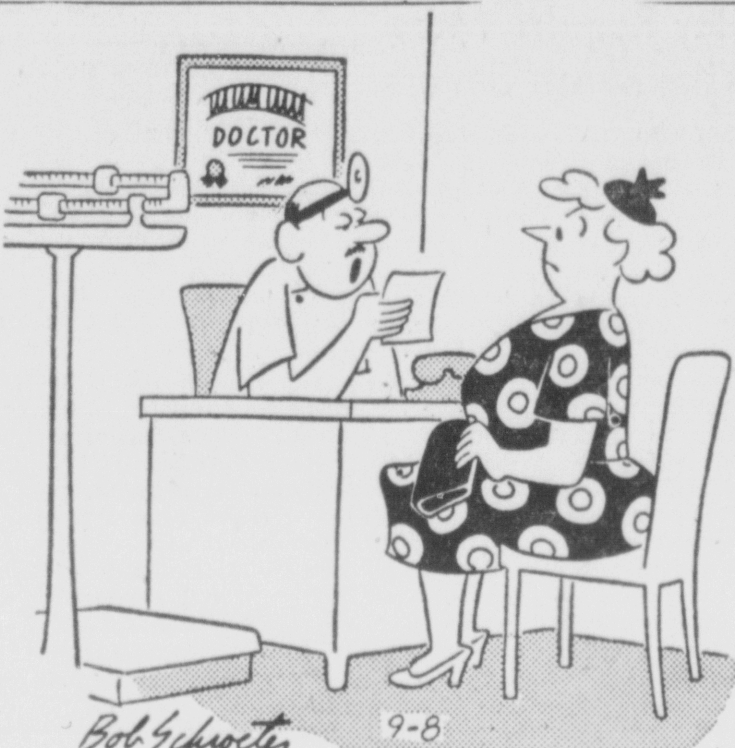

"I don't look like this!" thundered Kipling. "This is one of my off-days. You've caught me being pestered by imbecile celebrity chasers!"

When Oscar Wilde was sentenced to prison, he was led out of the courtroom into a drenching rainstorm. Heartbroken, but unbowed, he remarked to the prison warden in whose custody he found himself, "So this is the way Queen Victoria treats her convicts! She doesn't deserve to have any."

Diet and Health Statistics Describe Average Ulcer Victim

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

ARE YOU a candidate for an ulcer?

It has been estimated that between 10 and 12 per cent of Americans will suffer from peptic ulcers sometime during their lives. Are you likely to be one of them?

Exact Cause Unknown

Well, we can't say for sure, of course, since we don't even know the exact cause of stomach ulcers. But we can call upon statistics to give us a pretty good description of the average ulcer victim.

For example, we know that an ulcer patient pretty generally is a lean person in contrast to the short, stocky type.

He is tense, aggressive, ambitious, anxious to get somewhere in this business world of ours.

And there is a fairly good chance that some other member of his family has or had an ulcer. We know there is a tendency for many members of some families to be stricken with ulcers.

What Is an Ulcer?

A peptic ulcer is a small break in the lining of the stomach or duodenum. It is the result of the destruction of the underlying tissue by the digestive action of acid gastric juice.

The actual size of the break will range from a quarter of an inch to an inch, but from the pain it can cause, you might think it was a mile wide. In chronic cases, patients might complain of pain for up to seven years.

For some reason, attacks of pain generally are more prevalent in the spring and the fall.

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is one of the important weeks in American history. The Supreme Court, meeting Thursday, must do two things:

1. Give a decision which will affect the whole course of public school integration.
2. Decide a critical principle in law enforcement: whether mob violence and community antagonism can block a court order.

Specifically, the court will only be hearing arguments on the Little Rock school board's request to delay integration in Central High 2½ years.

The reason: the opposition of Little Rock's white people to integration.

But the far-reaching effect of the Supreme Court's decision—whatever it is—can be seen from this:

Several federal district judges—faced with opposition to integration in their districts this year—indicate they'll be guided by the court's decision.

Integration in Central High began last September under order of a federal judge. Then came mob violence and growing hostility in Little Rock.

Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus blocked the court order with National Guardsmen who kept Negroes out of the school. He said he did it to prevent violence.

Then, to back up the court order by seeing to it the Negroes got into school, President Eisenhower had to keep federalized National Guardsmen in Little Rock all year.

Some months ago the board asked, and got from, another federal district judge a 2½-year delay. This was overruled by the U. S. 8th Circuit Court of Appeals. Thus the case came to the Supreme Court for a final ruling.

The Circuit Court pointed out the broad implications of giving Little Rock a delay simply because of opposition to a court order by white people living there.

An impossible situation could develop. Every school district in which integration is publicly opposed by overt acts would have "justifiable excuse" to petition the courts for delay and suspension of integration programs.

The court said a delay for Little Rock "would amount to an open invitation to elements in other districts to overtly act out public opposition through violent and unlawful means."

It so happens Little Rock's Central High provides a classic test of how long community opposition can delay a court order and hence law enforcement.

The reason: Integration didn't begin there haphazardly but carefully and according to prescribed conditions laid down by the Supreme Court.

The court, instead of saying integration had to begin everywhere at once, took into account the fact that getting it started one place might be more difficult than in another because of differences in public attitudes.

So it said integration must begin with "all deliberate speed."

Ohioan Is Accused In Charleston Slaying

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Percy Henry Terry, 25, of Youngstown, Ohio, was under police guard in a hospital here today, charged with murder in the death of James Miller, 35.

Police said Miller was killed Sunday during a knife and gun fight at a Charleston service club. Terry is being treated for knife wounds.

Chicago Holds Ohioan For Strangling Mother

CHICAGO (AP) — Police are holding James D. Rutledge, 32, wanted in Minerva, Ohio, for questioning in the strangulation of his mother, Mary J. Rutledge, 58. He was arrested Sunday in a Loop tavern. Police said Rutledge denied knowing his mother had died and claimed he had been in Chicago about three weeks. His mother's body was found in her home at Minerva Aug. 29.

Polio Kills Boy, 3

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Nathaniel Anderson, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Anderson, died in South Side Hospital Sunday of bulbar spinal polio. He had not taken a Salk vaccine shot. His death was the city's first from infantile paralysis in several years.

a carefully vague phrase—and left it up to the various federal district judges to decide when integration in their districts should begin.

The federal judge in Little Rock didn't act arbitrarily. The school board worked on an integration plan which it felt could be carried out peacefully, starting in 1957 and ending in 1963.

The federal district judge then, after consultation with the board, approved the plan and ordered it to begin last September.

It's possible—but highly unlikely—the Supreme Court will permit the public opposition in Little Rock to persuade it to grant the 2½ year delay.

It's possible—but perhaps unlikely—that the court will now spell out just what it means by the phrase "all deliberate speed" as a guide to federal judges who have to make decisions on when to integrate in their districts.

One thing is certain: Although the Supreme Court outlawed public school segregation in 1954, integration has been far from speedy.

The New York Times reports that of 2,892 biracial districts in this country, only 792 have been integrated.

The Republicans are complaining of a financial shortage. Apparently the forty - eight and one - half cents isn't coming in as fast as the dollar did.

It is reported that President Eisenhower wrote a $500 check for the GOP National committee. They'd also like 500 or so well chosen words.

The Republicans want President Eisenhower to help in the congressional campaign. They're sure people still like Ike, but they're not sure people still like people Ike likes.

The Census bureau discloses it costs $5.17 to have a tooth filled in New York, compared to $7.14 in San Francisco. That indicates a pretty thorough count of heads, anyhow.

Besides, the girls she's talking about wear sheets, not sacks.

NO—It isn't the fact that the picture is something to be proud of. It's what Jack is doing! He's walking down the street of self-enterprise. He's carrying in his sack, separate bundles of responsibility.

He's wearing a smile of self satisfaction in the knowledge that he's earning his OWN money.

'57 Fayette Relief Bill Figured as $240,153

Fayette County's total figures for 1957 relief expenditures ran $240,153.20, according to a report made by State Auditor James A. Rhodes.

Inquiry made by the Record-Herald at the office of County Auditor Harry Allen, however, indicates that this figure is slightly misleading since it includes expenses for the Fayette County Farm, the income from which does not go into local relief funds but into the county's general fund. This has been true since the old county home (infirmary) was abandoned.

Another factor, which local taxpayers might misinterpret is the fact $130,864.41 of this total comes from state and federal funds, including an amount of $24,570.02 from the public utility excise tax, received as this county's share.

The remainder however comes out of local taxes of which soldiers' relief and the Fayette County Children's Home expenses take a heavy slice.

THE REPORT on relief funds for Fayette County, as compiled by the county auditor shows the following 1957 expenditures:

Poor relief - $47,734.94; aid to dependent and cripple children - $48,180.50; Children's Home and other child welfare costs - $52,416.92; aid to disabled - $426,617; soldiers' relief - $24,749.12; blind relief - $19,549.64; outlay for equipment in connection with relief services - $10,354.98. County farm expenses are not included in this list.

In the relief expenditures listed by counties by the state auditor, for 1957, Fayette County's total of $240,153.20 is less than that of any neighboring county except Madison which is listed at $211,764.05. Pickaway County's total was reported as $374,038.84; Pike - $561,043.15; Clinton - $362,329.80; Greene - $277,964.82; Ross - $711,758.22; Highland - $319,961.92.

State Auditor Rhodes states that the 1957 relief figures hit a record peak. County expenditures for all kinds of a relief, he says, have increased in the last 10 years from $37 million in 1948 to $92.6 million last year.

During that decade many counties took over the poor relief load of cities which formerly had their own relief departments. That has been the case in Fayette County for many years as a result of an agreement long ago between city and county officials, whereby the city makes an agreed-upon payment to the county for its proportionate share of relief.

The Union of South Africa has a population of 10,708,500.

Letters To Editor

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

The city park and the swimming pool have been a boon to the many people in this community who use them. It is shocking to know that this place is also the hangout of the criminal types that prey on children.

There has been more than one such incident and, although these men have been caught, there is no assurance that there will be no recurrence of this crime. I should think that the mothers and fathers of the children who frequent the park would do well to insist that the park be patrolled at all times.

If men bent on attacking small children knew that there was an officer of the law there at all times, they would not be so bold.

If the police force is not large enough to spare one or two officers to patrol this park, I think mothers and fathers should take it on themselves. I have read of a playground in another state where the mothers arrange among themselves for at least one to be in attendance at all times and offenses against children have stopped.

I think the parents of children in this town could make such arrangements. The time it takes is worth it if it protects our children. It should be the kind of campaign the Record-Herald could encourage. For the sake of our children and for those who have contributed time and money to make this playground, can't something be done to make it safe?

Postmen, Children Naturally Friends

Danger at the Mail Box?

Postmaster Clark Wickensimer wants all of you who read this to help him save a life. The life he has reference to may be that of your child.

Most children are attracted to mailmen, and most mailmen are attracted to children. This is fine at face value. But it is not so good when the mailman is driving a truck or an automobile.

It is natural for children to want to meet the mailman and to take what he has for delivery in to their parents. This gives them a pleasing sense of importance. But they become so absorbed in what they are doing that they are unaware of even the presence of a vehicle, much less the danger of running in front of it or behind it.

SCORES OF OFFICES across the country have stories to tell of accidents and near misses involving children and post office vehicles. Last week, a local carrier drove up to a curb mail box, made his delivery, and started away. He hadn't gone more than six feet when he found that he had driven over a child's bicycle.

Fortunately, the child was not on the bike. But he might have been. Stories and statistics about accidents don't mean much unless they involve someone you know. This makes it difficult for Postmaster Wickensimer and his associates to convince parents of the great need for keeping their children away from mail trucks and mail boxes.

Miss Sandra Lee Rose Weds Mr. Jerry Don Speakman

MR. AND MRS. JERRY SPEAKMAN

Grace Methodist Church was the setting Saturday afternoon for the open church wedding of Miss Sandra Lee Rose, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James E. Rose, 729 Washington Ave., and Mr. Jerry Don Speakman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Speakman, 311 E. Elm St.

The Rev. W. S. Alexander performed the double-ring ceremony at 2:30 o'clock before a background of candelabra and cathedral vases of gladioli, mums and pom poms. White ribbon masked the choir loft and the pews were marked with white satin bows and foliage.

Preceding the ceremony a half hour program of traditional nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Jerry Dray, soloist, and Miss Marian Christopher, organist.

Mrs. Dray sang "Because" by D'Hardelot; "Wedding Hymn," Barnby; "S. A. E. Sweetheart," Peterson and Woolson (a song of the groom's fraternity used for serenades); and "The Lord's Prayer," Mallotte, sung during the ceremony.

Miss Christopher's selections were "Dreams" by Wagner; "Benediction Nuptiale," Saint Saens; "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desire," Bach; "Invocation," Guilman; "Romance," Debussy; and "Lied," Viernie.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a full length gown of Skinner silk satin fashioned with a basque bodice of satin and Chantilly lace. The scalloped Italian neckline was edged with imported iridescent and seed pearls. Long lace sleeves ended in tiny points over her hands. The full skirt was enhanced by Chantilly lace insertions and the bustle back fell softly over an old fashioned eel hoop and terminated into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion was held by a crown of iridescent and seed pearls. She carried a crescent bouquet of feathered carnations centered with a white hybrid orchid. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

A gown of iridescent copper taffeta with a V neckline and a balloon skirt ending in a tight band at the knees was worn by the maid of honor, Miss Barbara Rose, assisted of the bride. Copper roses accented the waistline and hem. A tiny hat and mitts of the same copper taffeta completed her ensemble. She carried a crescent bouquet of Orange Delight and Talism roses.

The bridesmaids were Miss Sarah Core and Miss Wanda Tracey of Washington C. H.; Miss Carol Retter of Dayton, a sorority sister of the bride; Miss Rose Barber, Alexandria, Va.; and Miss Patti Ralston of Stout, Ohio, the bride's college roommate at Ohio University. They were attired in gowns of moss green iridescent taffeta, fashioned like that of the maid of honor's, and hats and mitts of moss green. They also carried crescent bouquets of Orange Delight and Talism roses.

The flower girl, little Miss Sherry Bloker of Olmsted Falls, a cousin of the bride, was wearing a dress of white organza. White roses banded her pony tail and she carried a basket of white rose petals.

Master Byron L. Hinton Jr. of Lockbourne, another cousin of the bride, served as ring bearer.

Best man for Mr. Speakman was a fraternity brother, Mr. Edward Seaman, of Euclid. Ushers were Mr. Bill Dugan, Mr. Charles Prosch, a cousin of the bride; Mr. Edward Rose, brother of the bride; all of Washington C. H.; Mr. Norman Looker, Bloomington, and Mr. Ralph Sommers of Cleveland.

Mrs. Rose chose for her daughter's wedding an afternoon length sheath gown of fern green lace over matching taffeta with a scooped neckline and bracelet length sleeves, highlighted by a bias fold satin band below the waist. A matching satin hat and accessories of the same green satin completed her ensemble.

Mrs. Speakman, mother of the groom, was wearing an afternoon length gown of beige lace over antique gold taffeta which featured a slightly flared skirt and cap sleeves. A gold chain accented the neckline. With this she combined a matching hat and accessories of

Miss Lininger Honored with Bridal Shower

Mrs. Art Gifford and Miss Martha A. Kenton of Columbus combined hospitalities at the home of Mrs. Gifford on the Waterloo-New Holland Rd. Friday evening with a miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Judith Lininger, bride-elect of Mr. Don Woods, of near Mt. Sterling.

The home throughout was radiant with lovely arrangements of bronze and gold chrysanthemums. Clever contests were arranged by the hostesses as entertainment for the guests. Mrs. Lee Mossbarger, Mrs. Richard Hiser, Mrs. John Stewart and Miss Mary Jane Doyle were the winners and they in turn graciously presented their awards to the honor guest.

The elaborate array of gifts were arranged on a table covered with a white cloth on which gold streamers extended from the edge to a beautiful centerpiece of a two-tiered planter filled with house plants and artificial fruit. A large white wedding bell suspended from the chandelier completed the decorations. Later in the evening the planter was presented to Miss Lininger by the hostesses. After opening each gift, Miss Lininger responded graciously. The hostesses then presented to Miss Lininger a diamond ring cut-out for the placing of the colorful bows from her package.

A tempting dessert course was served by the hostesses assisted by Miss Myrna Chaney and Mrs. Dean Wickensimer of Columbus, with each guest receiving a fan-shaped napkin in green and white, bearing the inscription Judie and Don.

The invited guest list included: Mrs. Martin Lininger, mother of the bride-elect; and Mrs. Lawrence Woods, of Mt. Sterling, mother of the groom-to-be; Mrs. Kenneth Bumgarner, of Wilmington; Miss Marlene Dunkle, Columbus; Mrs. Richard Hiser, Clarksville; Mrs. Webb Steinhouser, Williamsport; Mrs. Patrick O'Connor, Mrs. Jack Doyle, Mrs. Wayne Rudduck, Mrs. John Stewart, Miss Edith Stewart, Miss Shirley Stewart, Mrs. Kate Sessler, Mrs. Alfred Lininger, Miss Wanda Jean Lininger, Miss Peggy Lininger, Mrs. Mason Ellars, Mrs. Jesse Lininger, Miss Linda Layman all of Washington C. H.; Miss Jane Marvin, Miss Linda Eckle, Miss Carolyn Speakman, Mrs. Paul Hurr, Mrs. James Doyle, Miss Miss Jerry Doyle, Miss Mary Jane Doyle, Mrs. Gordon Writsel, Miss Beverly Yeoman, Mrs. Lee Mossbarger, Mrs. Willard Lininger, Mrs. William A. Woods, Mrs. William T. Woods, Mrs. John Blair, Mrs. Nelson Bochard, Miss Ruth Bochard, Miss Becky Mossbarger and Miss Mary Ann Mossbarger, all of New Holland.

Brenda Dorn Presents Recital

Miss Brenda Ruth Dorn, a mezzo-soprano, presented a recital Sunday at the Presbyterian Church in Sedalia. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dorn.

Miss Dorn sang a variety of numbers and introduced each song with interesting comments of them. She also told about the various contests she had entered.

The young soprano, who memorized all her songs, was warmly applauded by the audience for her excellent voice, poise and stage presentation. Her accompanists were Mrs. Ruth Dorn and Mrs. Amanda Paxson.

Miss Dorn's numbers included: A selection from the "Marriage of Figaro" by Mozart, and aria from the opera "Carman" by Bizet, "Love Is The Wind" by Mitchell, "The Moon Behind the Cottonwood" by Cadman, "Where'er You Walk" by Handel, "My Lover He Comes On the Skee-Clough" by Leighter, "A May Morning" by Denza, a lullaby by Prindlie Scott, "My Johann" by Greig, "Bali Hai" from "South Pacific," "Lift Thine Eyes" by Logan, "Strange Music" from the "Song of Norway" by Grieg, "Light" by Scott, a cradle song by Brahms, "Into The Night" by Edwards and "This Day Is Mine" by Ware.

Miss Christopher To Wed Mr. John Bates Parrish

MISS SUE ANN CHRISTOPHER

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stewart Christopher, of 919 Lincoln Dr., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Sue Ann, of New York City, to Mr. John Bates Parrish, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Nathaniel Parrish, of Dayton.

The bride-elect was graduated from Washington C. H. High School and received her Associates of Arts Degree from Stephens College, Columbia, Mo. She was a member of Pi Phi Rho honorary sorority. She is now affiliated with Sally Victor as an apprentice designer.

Mr. Parrish was graduated from Fairview High School in Dayton, attended the University of Dayton, is a graduate of Miami Jacobs Business College and received his Bachelor of Commercial Science degree from Tiffin College this spring. He was a member of Phi Theta Pi professional fraternity. He served four years with the U. S. Navy and has been affiliated with the National Cash Register Co. here.

No definite date has been set for the wedding.

Mrs. Wash Lough, president, conducted the business session and quoted a beautiful poem about trees. She listed the "garden reminders" for the month of September which are to stake young trees when they are planted and to trim deciduous hedges for the last time early in the month.

It was decided by the group to accept the invitation of the Marion P. T. O. to give a demonstration of the making of Christmas decorations at its November meeting.

Mrs. Lough announced the club had received a score of 94 on its year books which was third place in District 16.

An invitation to the district meeting in Wilmington on Sept. 25, for which reservations must be made, was read.

Three new committee chairmen were named. Mrs. Claude Davis was named the new civic chairman; Mrs. Warren Bryan, cards; and Mrs. Gladys Keller, horticulture and conservation.

"Turn A Tree Inside Out" was the title Mrs. Keller used for her discussion on trees. She stated that the nourishment of all trees is contained in the bark. Mrs. Keller spoke of the damage an unskilled pruning may do to trees and compared trees of Europe to our native trees.

Mrs. Keller visited Europe recently.

A leaf and bark identifying contest and plant exchange was enjoyed following Mrs. Keller's presentation.

The October meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. John D. Forsythe.

Alpha Circle Members, Husbands Enjoy "Dutch Treat Dinner"

Thirty-six members of Alpha Circle CCL and their husbands opened the first fall meeting after a summer recess of the organization with a "Dutch treat dinner" in the Parish Hall of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church.

The tables were beautifully decorated with autumn flowers and at each place setting was a colorful little figurine.

Mrs. Charles Hurr, president, welcomed the members and their husbands and gave the invocation.

Following the dinner, Mrs. Hurr announced that the state CCL convention will be held Sept. 30-Oct. 1 in the Neil House, Columbus. Any members wishing reservations for the convention and banquet are to contact Mrs. Charles Hurr or Mrs. Harry Naylor no later than Sept. 24.

Mrs. Hurr introduced Mr. George Sever, who showed pictures in color of his trip around the world.

The group was intensely interested in the enlightening narration given by Mr. Sever as he showed the pictures. Among the most interesting places visited were the tours through India and Pakistan, showing the impressive temples and other beautiful and unusual architectural structures.

The pictures showed the various ways in which these people made their livelihood, transportation, religion and their unique customs.

Following the showing of the pictures, the group enjoyed informal visiting and further discussion of the various countries with Mr. Sever.

The hostess committee consisted of new officers for this coming year, Mrs. Hurr, president; Mrs. Harry Naylor, vice president; Mrs. Merrill Lynch, secretary; Mrs. William Clarke, treasurer; and Mrs. William Fletcher, corresponding secretary.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Fulton Alkire, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Baker, Mr. and Mrs. William Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Coulter, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Crago, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dill, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Dunnagan, Mr. and Mrs. William Fletcher, Mrs. Margaret Helfrich, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hurr, Mr. and Mrs. George Inskeep, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. Allen McClung, Mrs. Edgar McFadden, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Minshall, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Naylor, Mrs. Helen Sollars, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Waters, Mrs. Howard Foster and Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Grubb.

Party Honors Dean Perrill

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Perrill honored their son, Dean, on his sixth birthday with a party Friday night.

A yellow and white color scheme was used for the attractive decorations.

The guest of honor thanked each guest graciously for the lovely gifts he received.

Birthday cake and ice cream were served by Mrs. Perrill and daughter, Luran, to Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Perrill, Mr. and Mrs. Hoy Simons, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Perrill and son, Norman, and Miss Ethel Slagle.

3 Employees Unaware Of Store Robbery

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Working with such precision that three store employees had no knowledge of it, two men robbed a Dayton drugstore of $5,000 Sunday night, police said. Alfred James 41, co-owner of the store, said one of the men drew a .38 caliber revolver and forced him to give him the money from a cash drawer. He said the robbers took $3,800 in cash and $1,200 in checks.

Many Cities Try To Woo New Industry

Expert Details How Factories List Needs In Selecting Sites

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—All across the land cities small and large are looking for new industrial plants to boost the local economy. Even in today's slower tempo of branch plant building there are still a sizable number of companies looking for new locations.

Getting the two together is the trick—both for the communities and for corporate management.

State and local development agencies are estimated to have spent 40 million dollars last year trying to attract more industries.

Even so, some industrial executives say many town boosters seem unaware of industry's actual needs before it can build a successful plant. One firm has drawn up a list of these needs as a yardstick, both for communities and industry.

A reverse switch to this is that some areas—particularly residential suburbs of big industrial centers—protest strongly against letting in industrial plants.

In this special field there are industrial and commercial realty firms that help communities find interested corporations and help industries find locations and fit into the local scheme of things with minimum of friction.

An industrial rule of thumb on choosing between different prospective plant sites is offered by J. C. Cleaver, president of Cleaver-Brooks Co. of Milwaukee. It grew out of the firm's search for a site to serve its Canadian market for boilers and burners. The company was flooded with letters and leaflets, some from the United States, although its announced intent was to build in Canada.

Cleaver's tests for choosing an industrial nesting place are these: Nearness to markets, to population centers, to raw materials, to good transportation lines; labor's stability of supply, capability of being trained in skilled trades, and competitive wage structures; Pleasant living conditions with good schools and recreational areas, a church-going population, adequate law enforcement; non-discriminatory taxes, local government support and interest in new business, the citizens' sympathy for business problems, civic pride in community, enterprising press and radio, cooperation of established businessmen;

Availability of land to build and expand, good public utilities, and adequate services at hand for maintaining the new plant;

And last, says Cleaver, "an aura of quiet confidence in the success of the future."

(He finally chose Stratford, Ontario, for his $900,000 investment.)

Memory of Recession Fades Fast

Business Chalks Plus Signs Following Labor Day Turn

NEW YORK (AP)—Plus signs dot the business scene today. The advent of Labor Day signalled the start of the fall season—busiest of the year for many businessmen.

Memories of recession faded fast. Consumers, cheered by signs of recovery, stepped up their buying in the nation's retail store. Manufacturers of a host of products ranging from bulldozers to stereophonic hi-fi sets reported a rising flow of incoming orders. The frenzied inventory knockdown of recent months seemed to have slowed to a crawl.

The picture was not entirely cloudless. Uncertainties loomed on the far horizon—the threat of a crippling auto strike, the chance that a swing toward tight money might nip recovery in the bud, the disturbing possibility of new warlike moves around Formosa.

But by and large, there was every indication that the post-Labor Day pickup would continue.

Although bogged down in labor difficulties, the auto industry was betting heavily on a good year in 1959.

L. L. Colbert, president of recession-plagued Chrysler Corp., declared: "We are anticipating and planning for a year in which between 5½ and 6 million passenger cars will be sold at retail in the United States. This compares with estimated retail sales of about 4,600,000 in 1958 x x x. We appear to be on our way out of recession."

Chrysler Corp. spent 150 million dollars redesigning its Imperial, Chrysler, De Soto, Dodge and Plymouth lines for 1959 after its 1958 cars failed to score. The company lost $25,200,000 on its 1958 models in the first six months this year.

Also fighting for a comeback this week were manufacturers of TV sets, office machines, freezers, washing machines, kitchen cabinets and automatic dryers.

Businessmen still faced plenty of king-sized problems. Eastern railroads complained loudly about passenger losses—several demanded lower taxes and higher fares. A National Retail Merchants survey found department and specialty stores fighting a grim battle against rising costs. More and more, the NRMA said, stores are making customers pay for C. O. D. deliveries and pickups of returned merchandise—services that used to be provided free.

Home builders worried about a gradual swing toward higher mortgage rates. New York bankers predicted an early boost in interest rates on short-term loans to business.

One of the week's brightest bits of news came from the National Industrial Conference Board. Announcing results of a poll of 196 companies, the NICB said; businessmen don't expect any substantial rise in profits until the end of the year. But they do see definite signs of improvement now.

Briefly over the business scene: Seven banks failed during the past 12 months—one each in Georgia, Kansas, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Ohio, Oregon and Texas. . . Dun & Bradstreet's count of business failures this week—246—set a new 1958 low. In a sharp break with tradition, Wellington Fund established a new mutual fund that will concentrate its investments in common stocks. . . Gamble - Skogmo Inc., big Midwest retail chain, may import and sell a German-made automobile, the 46-horsepower, four-cylinder Goliath.

Stock sales in the latest week totaled 11,800,284 shares compared with 13,577,760 shares the preceding week and 5,479,185 shares in the corresponding week a year ago.

Bond sales had a par value of $18,228,000 in the latest week, $23,318,000 in the preceding week and $12,641,500 in the corresponding 1957 week.

Future Brightens For Paralyzed Victim of Crash

GREENFIELD — Larry Syfered, 26-year-old paralyzed victim of an airplane crash at Leesburg in 1949, has returned to Greenfield Municipal Hospital after an "encouraging" report on observation and treatment at a Kansas City hospital.

Injuries suffered in the accident July 21, 1949, left the Leesburg man paralyzed, and he has been a patient much of the time since then in the Greenfield Hospital.

A hobby which he acquired some years back — amateur short-wave radio communications—made possible his visit to St. Luke's Hospital in Kansas City for 10 days of examination and treatment by a staff of medical specialists and therapists.

He made many friends among "hams" and it was their interest and contributions of money that made the trip possible.

Pirates Try Hard In Last Effort To Topple Braves

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS - The 10 telling days are over for the Pittsburgh Pirates. But if the Bucs missed a storybook finish in that span, they did no less than stamp themselves baseball's surprise team of 1958 and make Danny Murtaugh a top choice as the National League Manager of the year.

In a 10-day showdown, the Pirates faced their final seven games with the first place Milwaukee Braves. They trailed by 7 1/2 games when it started, lost two of three at Milwaukee and were third, 9 1/2 games back, going into the final four at Pittsburgh Friday night.

They came out with a 3-1 edge in the series, holding the world champions to an 11-11 standoff for the season with a doubleheader split in the finale Sunday. They won 4-1 after Warren "The Wonder" Spahn had taken the opener 3-1 for the Braves, his 19th victory.

It was the last chance anybody had of catching the Braves, who

Browns Show Better Grade Of Football

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Despite a split of their first four exhibition games, it is evident the Cleveland Browns are getting better each week.

A holding penalty in the final minute of play wiped out a Cleveland touchdown and permitted the powerful San Francisco 49ers to escape with a 21-16 victory before 11,339 at Kezar Stadium Sunday.

After the 49ers had gone ahead on an eight-yard touchdown pass from quarterback John Brodie to end R. C. Owens, the Browns came fighting back.

The clock was a factor with only two minutes left and Cleveland 80 yards away from scoring territory.

Rookie halfback Leroy Bolden supplied the spark with a brilliant 57-yard gallop on a trap play. With less than 50 seconds showing on the clock, rookie Jim Ninowski fired a 13-yard pass to end Darrell Brewster in the end zone for what seemed the winning score.

But a holding penalty set the play back and Bill Stits—an outstanding defensive performer for the 49ers—intercepted Ninowski's next toss and killed the Browns' comeback drive.

Jim Pace, the 49ers rookie ace from Michigan, scored the first touchdown of the game on a 16-yard run, climaxing a drive of 76 yards. Fullback Jim Brown's touchdown smash for 18 yards up the middle tied it at 7-7 in the second period.

Lou Groza found the range with a field goal from 18 yards out to make it 10-7 Cleveland just before the half ended.

The 49ers went in front with a short drive of 29 yards in the third period. It was set up by a 29-yard punt return by Hugh McElheny. Joe Perry smashed for the final three yards. Trailing 14-10, Groza's conversion attempt was blocked by Stits. That left Cleveland in front 16-14. The San Francisco offense still had power, however.

Pace zig-zagged all over the field—being hit but not stopped several times—and went 86 yards. Ninowski tossed to Renfro from Brodie on the 31, paving the way for the final Cleveland touchdown. Don Paul intercepted a pass from into the end zone on a brilliant fourth period run. It was called back to the Browns' 45 on a holding penalty.

Six plays later, Brodie hit Owens for the winning marker on an eight-yard aerial.

Precision Play Recaptures Crown

Himmelsbach New Golf Champion

Bill Himmelsbach, a precisionist, today holds the golf championship of the Country Club for the second time in three years.

He recaptured the title, which Dr. Robert Hagerty won last year, when he defeated Dan O'Brien, a long - ball hitter, 4 and 3, over the 36 - hole Sunday.

They teed off in the final of the annual championship tournament at 10 a. m. in front of a sizable gallery.

And that first hole was the tip-off of the type of match that was in the making. O'Brien laced his drive far down the fairway to with in an easy pitch to the green. Himmelsbach's tee shot, while a respectable belt, left him a longer shot to the green.

It was like that all through the match. O'Brien was hitting his drives far and, for the most part, right down the fairways, but his approaches to the greens and short game were not up to his usual performance.

HIMMELSACH, playing with his customary steadiness and accuracy, especially on his approaches, gradually forged to the front and took a 2 - up lead on the first nine holes and held it, despite the growing pressure by O'Brien as the match progressed.

O'Brien matched Himmelsbach stroke for stroke through the second nine and managed to narrow the gap to one hole at the end of 27 holes.

But, Himmelsbach, playing fine precision golf, held his advantage and sewed up the match on the 33rd hole.

Nine - hole scores were Himmelsbach 40 - 39 - 38 and O'Brien 41 - 39 - 39.

On the way to his second championship, Himmelsbach defeated George Fitzgerald 1 up on 19 holes, Jack Daves 7 and 6, Forrest Ellis 2 and 1 and Chuck Cummings 2 up.

Himmelsbach will receive the championship trophy and O'Brien the runner - up.

IN OTHER tournament matches, M. A. (Dutch) Rife defeated Mark Schaeper, 1 up on 19 holes, to take the third flight and Dr. O. W. House defeated Talmadge Taylor in the semi - final of the second flight and now faces Stan Hagerty in the final.

Coming final matches are: Bart Mahoney vs Wayne Powers, fourth flight; John Rhoads vs Gene Gordon fifth flight, and Roger McLean vs Jim Grinstead, first flight.

In the women's championship tournament last week, Mrs. Carl Mason defeated Mrs. Marvin Rossmann 2 up; Mrs. Ralph Bray beat Mrs. Roger Littleton 5 and 4; Mrs. Willard McLean beat Lorena Littleton 4 and 3; Mrs. Max Lawrence beat Mrs. William Wead 1 up on 19 holes and Mrs. Paul Pennington beat Mrs. Byers Shaw 3 and 2.

Denver's Hopes High for Team

Colorado City Seeks Major League Outfit

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of articles concerning new cities seeking to obtain a major league baseball franchise.

DENVER (AP)—Denver's hopes for major league baseball are as high as the planes that pass over carrying big league teams to and from the Pacific Coast.

But there's more than air under Denver's dreams.

It's often billed as the hottest minor league town in the country. Officials of Denver's American Association team point proudly to an average of 375,632 fans each season since 1949 for minor league ball.

Plans have been drawn showing it is feasible to increase the club's present 19,000-seat concrete stadium to a 72,000-seater. Nearby wide open spaces offer plenty of room for expansion for the playing field and for enlarging automobile parking.

By Eastern standards, the area surrounding Denver is sparsely settled. Colorado has about 1 1/4 million residents, with about half in the Denver metropolitan area. Adjacent Wyoming has fewer than 300,000.

But Denver and Colorado Springs, 60 miles apart, are more sports minded than most towns their size. Dog racing is a competitive night attraction. College ice hockey drew 90,000 fans last winter. College football attractions include the Air Force Academy and Colorado University.

Two of Colorado's top political figures, Gov. Steve McNichols and Denver Mayor Will Nicholson, are red-hot sports fans. They have been supporting all sports ventures and Nicholson especially is plugging for major league baseball.

One of Denver's best friends in the big league circles is Del Webb, co-owner of the New York Yankees. Webb has expressed his faith in a growing Denver by investing heavily in real estate and a hotel venture. He's also been instrumental in Denver's working agreement with the New York Yankees.

Hutchinson's Job With Cards Shaky

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Fred Hutchinson is on shaky ground as manager of the St. Louis Cardinals and his job may depend on how the club fares in the final month of the season.

This is the consensus of Executive Vice President Dick Meyer, club President August A. Busch Jr. and General Manager Bing Devine.

"We simply have not made up our minds," Meyer said.

The Redbirds, a strong second place team last season, are now in fifth place with little chance of finishing higher than fourth.

"Our policy is not to rehire or to discharge managers before the end of the season," said Meyer. Busch's right-hand man. "We will stick with it."

Hawkins Leading Utah Pro Test

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., teed off today in the $17,000 Utah Open hunting his second major golf victory.

Hawkins, whose only other big-time win was in the 1956 Oklahoma City Open, came from nowhere with a 10-under-par 62 in the third round over the 6,394-yard Salt Lake Country Club course. He had a 54-hole total of 199.

The 62 equaled the competitive course mark.

Dow Finsterwald, Tequesta, Fla., and Bob Rosburg, Palo Alto, Calif., kept up their under-70 efforts and carded 201s. Finsterwald had a third-round 67 and Rosburg a 66.

3 SWO Protest Games Are Decided by Panel

One game in the Southwestern Ohio (SWO) League was forfeited, decisions were awarded in three protest games and two others were played Sunday.

Good Hope's team was the beneficiary of the forfeit by Mt. Sterling. In a call at 10 a. m. Sunday to Manager Tom Smalley of the Good Hope team, the Mt. Sterling manager said he could not get his last place team together for the game. He explained that after Saturday night's rain, the players had assumed there would be no game and had made other plans.

In the two games that were played, Chillicothe took a 7 to 1 decision over Greenfield and the Reformatory blanked Bloomingburg's Monarchs, 18 to 0.

Milledgeville's team, involved in three protests, came out ahead in two but lost the other. All protests were based on the use of ineligible players.

A panel of Bill Briggs, Heart of Ohio League umpire; Harry Snyder of Chillicothe, president of the Heart of Ohio League and a (Red) Wilson, president of the SWO, awarded to Chillicothe the game it had protested with Milledgeville.

But, a Good Hope protest of a game with Milledgeville was denied.

Milledgeville was awarded its protested game with Blanchester.

The panel met Sunday evening at Smalley's home here to hear the protests.

This is the way the teams stand now (games won, lost and remaining to be played): Chillicothe 11-2-1; Milledgeville 8-5-1; Reformatory 8-5-1; Good Hope 7-5-2; Greenfield 7-5-2; Bloomingburg 7-7-0; Blanchester 3-11-0 and Mt. Sterling 1-12-1.

Only two of the teams have where with a 10-under-par 62 in the third round over the 6,394-yard Salt Lake Country Club course. He had a 54-hole total of 199.

Lions Seek To Plug Leaky Pass Defense

Following a staff meeting Sunday, the WHS Lion coaching staff decided on several personnel shifts in an attempt to plug a leaky pass defense which allowed Hillsboro Quarterback Dave Mowery to complete several long airdrives in a preliminary game Friday night.

Coach Fred Domenico said the changes won't be announced publicly until after they are tried out in practice sessions. The Lions are scheduled to work on pass defense for three of the four sessions this week. Other lineup changes will be tried.

Monday afternoon the Lions will start setting up a defense for the Logan Chieftans, their opening game opponents Friday night at Logan. "We know what to expect from the Logan offense," Domenico said. Movies of last year's games have been exchanged by the two coaching staffs.

Domenico PROMISED that the Lions will do more passing during the season than they did Friday night. Only one pass was tossed in the preview.

The efforts of the Boosters Club members who helped set up the bleachers Friday night was appreciated by Domenico. He said a group which was to put them up earlier failed to do so.

In a Logan intra-squad scrimmage Friday night, 13 touchdowns and 18 after-touchdown points were scored in a 2 1/2-hour session that saw nearly 80 boys take part.

Coach Mel Adams said his only disappointment with the evening was the number of mistakes (mainly resulting in penalties) made by his first unit during the first half.

Gibson Hints Intention To Quit Tennis

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Althea Gibson may or may not return to tennis, but one thing was certain today—she had taken her place among the all-time women's greats of the game.

That's just what she wanted. Since the tall New York Negro ascended the throne as queen of all she surveyed, there have been whisperings that she left something to be desired.

Among the accusations was that she wilted when the going got tough. It couldn't have been any tougher Sunday when she came back to win the national championship for the second straight year by defeating Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., 3-6, 6-1, 6-2.

She couldn't do a thing right in the first set. But she wound up crushing the plump blond Pomona College freshman.

She is the first player to win at both Wimbledon and Forest Hills since Maureen Connolly turned the trick in 1952-53.

Ashley Cooper won the men's title when he whipped his Australian Davis Cup teammate Mal Anderson 6-2, 3-6, 4-6, 10-8, 8-6.

Coop had a rough time and was down 5-4 in the 10th game of the final set on Anderson's service. But he broke at love, then went ahead.

In the 12th game, he took a spill and twisted his ankle. For a few minutes he thought he might have to default. But he kept going and won it. That reversed last year's result.

In the 12th game, he took a spill and twisted his ankle. For a few minutes he thought he might have to default. But he kept going and won it. That reversed last year's result.

She is the first player to win at both Wimbledon and Forest Hills since Maureen Connolly turned the trick in 1952-53.

Ashley Cooper won the men's title when he whipped his Australian Davis Cup teammate Mal Anderson 6-2, 3-6, 4-6, 10-8, 8-6.

Coop had a rough time and was down 5-4 in the 10th game of the final set on Anderson's service. But he broke at love, then went ahead.

College Degree After 36 Years

COVINGTON, Va. (AP) — Just about the proudest of 1958 college graduates is the Rev. Richard Guy Shelton, 58. He got his A. B. degree from Randolph Macon College 36 years after beginning his work at the college in 1922. Financial difficulties forced him to drop out of school. Came the depression of the 1930's and it took him 13 years to repay money he had borrowed to go to school. In 1945 he decided to get that degree. He used extension courses and went to night school while serving as pastor of Mt. Carmel Methodist Church and working week days as supervisor in the finishing and dyeing room of a rayon plant. He passed his final examinations with flying colors.

Only Token Bid Is Received on School Property

Eastside Tract Can Now Be Sold In Private Deal

A single bid of $100 was received for the 1.8-acre East Side School property, Columbus Ave., and Willard St., at a second public offering of the tract Saturday afternoon.

The Washington C. H. Board of Education rejected the bid, and since the property has now been offered twice at public auction without an acceptable offer it is now subject to private sale.

The lone bid was made by Horace L. Jacobs, 804 Lincoln Dr., whose residence adjoins the school ground. Jacobs said he was in no way interested in acquiring the tract but offered $100 just to get the bidding started.

However there were no further offers from the small group attending the sale—most of the residents of the immediate area.

WHEN THE school property, no longer needed because of construction of a new Eastside School at Willard and Elm St., was first offered at auction July 19, the high bid was $15,500. This was rejected by the board as too low.

A Columbus realtor said before the first auction attempt that he would make an initial offer of $30,000 if the tract could be rezoned for commercial purposes, stating that he planned to construct a supermarket on the site.

Property owners in the area protested rezoning for this purpose, and their stand was upheld by the city's Zoning Board of Appeals. Later adjoining property owners asked that the tract be rezoned for residential use, but the zoning board has not yet taken action on this petition, leaving the property in a special "school" classification which is neither commercial nor residential.

The board met in special session for Saturday's sale, and member Robert Terhune was again designated to act as auctioneer. The board had previously reserved the right to reject any and all bids if they were regarded as too low.

Ohio Dems Hail Plank To 'Help Labor'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Democratic campaign plank, aimed at cleaning up racketeering in labor-management relations, is "something to help labor" and that labor leaders "will be very, very happy with," Democratic State Chairman William Coleman said Sunday.

The plank, part of a 34-point platform approved during the two-day Democratic state convention, states:

"The public must be protected against illegal and unethical practices which eventually result in increased costs. Men who have been selected to hold positions of trust and leadership and who violate that trust should be restrained from such practices.

"The overwhelming majority of the leaders of organized labor and management are honest. The few who act to the detriment of the public should be punished. We regret that the Kennedy-lives labor-management reform bill was defeated for purely political reasons. We pledge our support to legislation which will correct the abuses sought to be covered in the bill."

The executive committee of the Ohio League of Young Democratic Clubs adopted a resolution calling for the defeat of the proposed anti-union shop amendment. The resolution said the amendment would destroy union security and weaken the economy of the state.

Woman, 20, Bears Her Sixth Child

NEW YORK (AP) — Thelma McKenna, 20, has given birth to her sixth child.

The blue-eyed brunette gave birth to an 8½-pound boy Sunday at her home in Queens. She was attended by her mother, Thelma Moody, a nurse.

The young mother was up and around a few hours after the birth and showed the new arrival to James Jr., 5; Richard, 4; Kenneth, 3; Sharon, 2; and Edward, 1.

Mrs. McKenna and her husband, James, 23, a $70-a-week parking lot employee, were married when she was 13 and he was 16.

September Term Of Court Opens Monday Morning

Quiet Formality Finds Only Judge, Attaches on Hand

The September term of Fayette County Common Pleas Court opened at 9 a. m. Monday with Judge John P. Case, Bailiff David Whiteside and Miss Mildred Smith, court reporter, the only persons in the courtroom at the announced time.

Judge Case "called" the 16-case "drop list" which includes actions in which there has been no recent evidence of intention to prosecute.

One of these cases has been dismissed and two were continued after the court concluded that there was just cause for such action. The other 13 probably will be dropped in a formal entry later this week.

THE FIRST CASE now on the docket for the September term is a motion to vacate a $120,600 cognovit note judgment previously granted to the Buckeye Lake Hotel Co. against Leon Imperatore of Imperatore Enterprises, Canonsburg, Pa. The motion will be heard by the court.

First September term case to be tried before a jury is that of Homer H. Harrison vs. Wilson Fisher and Jack Holmes, a suit for $39,000 in damages growing out of an automobile accident.

The grand jury will convene Oct. 1. A group of 50 Washington High School students will visit the court at that time.

Record Crowd At Meeting Of Collectors

Officials of the Central Ohio Gun and Indian Relic Collectors Assn. were unanimous in declaring that the meeting of the association held at the Merchants Building on the Fairground Saturday and Sunday, was the greatest of the series held here.

The number of Saturday exhibitors and visitors was about average, but on Sunday the building was packed all day. Many exhibitors, arriving late, showed their wares from the boots of their cars parked as near the building as possible.

Much of the Fairground in the area was covered with parked cars, and more than a half score of states, including Florida, Wisconsin, New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia, were represented at the meeting.

Two pistols were reported stolen Sunday afternoon and in one instance the man who lost a gun has a good clue as to where it went.

BUYING, SELLING and trading was brisk throughout Sunday, and some unusually good sales were made Saturday.

One dealer, a local man, who started with a table full of guns, had sold out by early Sunday afternoon.

A Pennsylvania dealer sold more than $3,000 worth of guns and related material during the two days.

In addition to guns and Indian relics, a wide range of other articles made up the offerings.

The next meeting will be held at the same place Nov. 1 and 2, according to present plans.

Three Sentenced On DWI Charges

One Admits Leaving Scene of Accident

After sideswiping a telephone pole on S. Main St., 60 feet north of Circle Ave., Sunday night, Harley E. Daugherty, 34, of 627 Harrison St., went home and went to bed, police said.

After a Main St. resident followed him and phoned officers, Patrolman Robert Williams went to the home and arrested Daugherty for driving while intoxicated and leaving the scene of an accident.

In Municipal Court Monday, Daugherty admitted both offenses. Judge Max G. Dice fined him $200 and costs, suspended his driver's license for a year and sentenced Daugherty to three days in jail for driving while intoxicated. He was fined $10 and costs for leaving the accident scene.

ANOTHER DRIVER got a 10-day sentence for operating a vehicle while drunk. Frederick Thomas Wilson, 35, Parrott-Wilson Rd., pleaded guilty to the offense which occurred on Route 70 Sunday. Wilson also was fined $200 and costs and his driving rights were suspended for one year. The defendant must either pay up or serve time under a bench warrant issued because of his failure to pay a $5 fine for resisting arrest, a charge dating from May 21, 1957.

Walter Ray Cragg, 38, Peebles, pleaded guilty to driving a truck on Route 62 Sunday while drunk. He was fined $200 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and had his driving rights suspended for one year.

Pleading guilty to speeding, John Thomas Powell, 51, Medway, was fined $10 and costs. Paul E. Bailey, 38, Logan, forfeited $51 bond on a charge of speeding, and Robert Henize, 66, Leesburg, forfeited $15 bond on a similar charge.

Stoughton, Souther Back from Chicago

William Stoughton and Paul Souther returned Sunday from the national American Legion and Forty Eight conventions, which closed Thursday night in Chicago.

Stoughton, a past commander of the Paul H. Hughey post of the Legion here, was one of this district's five official delegates to the Legion convention and the alternate delegate of the Washington C. H. voiture to Forty et Eight convention.

Souther, commander of Hughey post, was the delegate of the Washington C. H. voiture to the Forty et Eight convention and alternate district delegate to the Legion convention.

Stoughton, manager of the Washington C. H. voiture to Chicago by Mrs. Stoughton. They stopped on their way home to visit friends in Indiana.

Souther made the trip to the convention with a group of Legionnaires from Chillicothe.

Iceland Chief Vows Firmness in Fuss

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Premier Hermann Jonasson told a news conference today they will never retreat from Iceland's decision to maintain a 12-mile territorial limit.

Since Sept. 1, British trawlers, guarded by frigates, have been fishing within the 12-mile limit. Six small coast guard vessels have been harrying British trawlers and interfering with their fishing.

Britain contends Iceland's extension of her territorial waters to 12 miles is an encroachment on the open seas. Iceland says she extended the limits and barred fishing in the zone to preserve breeding grounds and safeguard her chief economic asset.

Nickles Scattered On Road as Robbers Flee Restaurant

The box just wouldn't hold, and after all that work!

Two or three young men (the number is uncertain) broke into Pearl's Restaurant, Circleville Rd., 10:15 p. m. Sunday through the backdoor and forced open the coin box on the bowling machine, according to Sheriff Orland Hays, and put the nickles in it in a small paper carton.

When a man working at the Pre-fab Transit Co. next door uttered the commotion he started toward the front door at the same time the two owners, Pearl and Edward A. Grimmer, were driving around to the side.

Sensing trouble, the men went out the front door and ran to their car, reported to have been a 1954 Chevrolet, parked down the road. While running for the car the bottom of the box fell out.

Meanwhile, the nickles scattered all over the road, were recovered by the owners.

They got away, but are now being sought by Sheriff Hays for breaking and entering.

They left their tools, including a wrecking bar, behind in the restaurant.

Formosa Talks Okd

islands, and it was disclosed they had been doing the same at night since Wednesday.

The Red Chinese made no effort to interfere.

Not all Red China's actions over the weekend were conciliatory. The Chinese Communist regime's Central Committee announced full mobilization had been ordered.

It was not clear whether full mobilization was part of a shift by Red China to a war footing or whether it was simply another effort to make a great leap forward in the Peiping regime's industrialization and agricultural build-up.

Former Secretary of State Dean Acheson criticized the Eisenhower administration for what he called a drift toward war with China without friends or allies and over issues "not worth a single American life."

He said the administration seems to have decided "to defend Quemoy, even though it leads to world war." The administration, he said, has maneuvered itself to a point where it has lost control of the situation, at the mercy of both Chiang Kai-shek and the Communists.

The statement by Acheson was prepared before Red China's offer to start talking. The White House declined comment.

Commissioners Get Request For Help on Village Streets

Improvement of parts of five streets in Jeffersonville was declared necessary by Mayor Oscar Fannin of that village who met with the Fayette County Board of Commissioners Monday morning.

Mayor Fannin stated that the commissioners' approval is sought for help from the county engineer in arriving at estimates of costs and for use of some of the county's highway equipment with the understanding that the village will pay all costs of materials.

The commissioners granted the request and County Engineer Wagner stated he would furnish the estimates this week.

THE COMMISSIONERS also approved action agreed upon last week for resurfacing two county roads. One is the Moon - Evans Rd. in Jefferson Township from Route 70 to the Pleasant View Rd., for a distance of 1.60 miles at a cost not to exceed $900 per mile. The other is .603 of a mile of the Barger Rd., in Green Township, from Stafford Rd. to the Highland County line at a cost not to exceed $850 per mile.

The improvement is to be made by forced account and work will be done by the county highway crew.

CITY MANAGER James Parkinson and Ben Norris, president of the Washington C. H. City Council, held a brief meeting with the commissioners for discussion on the probability of action by council relative to some proposed revision of annexation plans. They sought the commissioners' attitude relative to the North Shore addition and also the Jonesboro area.

Whatever annexation program is approved by the City Council must be made ready at once in order that the proposal may be submitted to the voters of Union Township at the November election.

Commissioners Robert Cockerill and Ralph Minton indicated no positive decision but said they would not object to the North Shore addition being included in annexation plans. They preferred to wait, they indicated, until the city's revised plans are passed upon by the whole Council before stating whether they would favor such plans. Commissioner Cliff Hughes was not present as he is in Canada on vacation.

Cockerill and Minton had earlier disapproved a petition for annexation of a 3.42 - square - mile area to the city.

A NEW EMPLOYEE has been added to the staff of County Engineer Charles Wagner. He is Gale Helms, 28, a licensed surveyor, who becomes assistant to the county engineer.

Helms lives on S. Main St., with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Helms.

Wife Claims Mate Took Shot at Her; He Pays $10 Fine

Robert Wayne Rinehart, Octa, pleaded guilty to the disorderly conduct charge filed against him by his wife, Emma Mae Rinehart, in Municipal Court Monday.

Rinehart was fined $10 and costs. Sheriff's deputies said Mrs. Rinehart told them her husband took a shot at her with a .22 caliber rifle now being held in the sheriff's office. It came out in court that the gun was fired in her presence, though not at her.

Leroy Slagle, Sabina, asked the court to withdraw a charge of malicious destruction of a hubcap valued at $2.50 which he filed against John Pryor, Greenfield. The charge was dismissed upon payment of costs.
